

Dr Christine Muir – Plenary speaker for the 33rd AKS Conference with the talk
'Language teacher wellbeing in the new realities of a changing world'

Christine Muir is an Assistant Professor in Second Language Acquisition at the University of Nottingham. Her research is rooted in the broad field of language learning psychology, with particular interests and expertise in language learner motivation and language teacher wellbeing. Christine has published widely, in handbooks, edited volumes and journals, including her most recent monograph Directed Motivational Currents in Language Education (2020, Multilingual Matters). Her broader research interests also include practices around and approaches to postgraduate research supervision and the teaching of English for Academic Purposes in UK higher education. Christine is an active member of the wider research community and is currently a member of the Executive Board of the International Association for the Psychology of Language Learning.

